Hello,

I am writing this cover letter to express my interest in your post for a Senior QA Analyst. I have been watching your website for an opportunity just like this with your company. I have good knowledge on financial services as I have worked on banking domain related projects.

I have ISTQB Foundation certifications. Take that alongside my degree in Software Engineering and 2years and 10 months of testing software lifecycles and you have a competitive candidate for any software test engineer slot. I know the detailed process of taking a project from its initial stages up to final release. The process includes test planning and carefully documenting all steps to ensure all parties are in the loop.

I would like to come in for an interview and discuss the Software Senior QA Analyst position in greater detail.

Best Regards,

Neha Afrin Shaik.
